

Samuelson Wylie
Associates

Automotive proofreader – Freelance

Start date: ASAP

Location: Remote/home-based

Apply: Please send a CV and covering note to ellie@contactswa.com

About us

Samuelson Wylie Associates is an award-winning Lancaster-based PR, content and events agency working for a range of automotive clients in the UK and internationally.

With a number of current and former journalists on the team, part of our content business is focused on proofreading automotive and lifestyle content that has been translated into English.

We are now looking to increase our bank of freelance proofreaders to support this side of the business, and would like to hear from people with an excellent command of the English language and strong technical automotive or engineering knowledge.

This is a specialist role, and only those with the keenest eye for detail should get in touch. An interest in all things four-wheeled is preferable – we are firm believers that if you love what you do, you do it to the very best of your ability – and a high-degree of confidentiality is required.

To find out more, please contact Ellie Hargreaves at ellie@contactswa.com.